

Call for Consultants
August 1, 2016

The New Mexico Historical Records Advisory Board (NMHRAB) is conducting a search for qualified archivists, conservators, and records managers to do consulting work with historical records repositories. NMHRAB intends to compile a list of qualified consultants for publication in conjunction with a call for grant proposals to be issued in October 2016. The purpose of the list is to provide potential applicants for NMHRAB grants with an available pool of professional archivists and records managers who might render consultant services for grant projects. Grants awarded will span the period from July 1, 2017 through June 15, 2018, although the nature of each project will determine the extent of consultation, if any, required. Not appearing on the list will not preclude a consultant from being included in a project proposal, but, NMHRAB's acquaintance with consultants' qualifications will facilitate the evaluation of proposals received. To be considered for inclusion on the list, individuals must have the minimum qualifications described below. NMHRAB will determine consultants to be included based on an evaluation of applicant qualifications.

Pursuant to the Governmental Conduct Act, current public officers and employees of the state and family members of the public officer or employee are not eligible to serve as paid consultants unless the consulting fee is under one thousand dollars ($1,000.00). Former state officers and employees of the state are not eligible to serve as paid consultants for one year after their resignation or replacement unless the consulting fee is under one thousand dollars ($1,000.00). The Governmental Conduct Act defines family as an individual's spouse, parents, children or siblings, by consanguinity or affinity.
